Monthly Message

Fathers bless our lives in quiet, steady ways. Many of the most meaningful things they do are never announced—they're lived: the hours away from their family to provide, the patient teaching, the time taken to coach a team, the unseen prayers for their children. Their influence often shows up in who we become long before we realize where it came from.

In the restored gospel, these earthly patterns point us to something eternal. Those fatherly traits —provision, protection, counsel, correction, compassion—reflect the character of our Heavenly Father. He is the perfect model behind every imperfect mortal effort.

Just as our fathers guide us through childhood, our Heavenly Father guides us through mortality. Just as they want us to grow, He wants us to become like Him. Just as they rejoice in our progress, He rejoices in our return.

President Gordon B. Hinckley once taught that “the Father of us all is the God of the universe, the Creator and the Almighty.” And yet, despite His majesty, He invites us to call Him Father—a title of intimacy, belonging, and love.

This month we honored the fathers in our lives – including many of you - those who raised us, taught us, blessed us, or simply showed up—we also remember the who knows us perfectly. The One who loves us eternally. The One who never stops reaching for His children.

Emergency Prep - A Little at a Time Adds Up Fast

One of the most common reasons families put off food storage is the feeling that it has to happen all at once. It doesn't. Consider this: if a family picks up an extra two-pound bag of rice, one box of pasta, a canister of oatmeal, two cans of soup, two cans of beans, and a can of tuna each week, and buys a flat of water every other week, they'll spend right around $20 at the grocery store. That's less than a fast food lunch for two.

Do that for twelve weeks and here's what they'll have sitting on a shelf:

- 24 pounds of rice
- 12 pounds of pasta
- Over 30 pounds of oatmeal
- 24 cans of soup
- 24 cans of beans
- 12 cans of tuna
- About 18 gallons of water

All for roughly $240 total. That's approximately 36 days of meals for two people, built one grocery run at a time without changing their budget in any meaningful way. No big outlay, no overwhelming project, just a small, consistent habit.

The Lord and His Prophets have counseled us to prepare, and it turns out preparation is more accessible than most of us think.

EQ Lesson 5/24 – Prophets of God

Instructor: Christ Welch

Talk: All Who Have Endured Valiantly - David A Bednar

The Savior’s restored gospel invites us to be spiritually transformed—not merely to improve our behavior. As we align our character, desires, actions, and what we truly love more closely with God’s will, the Savior can bring about a comprehensive and complete change in us.

EQ Lesson 6/14 – Best Days and Worst Days

Instructor: Cary Griffin

Talk: Choose Jesus Christ as Your Guide - Edward B Rowe

Christ’s invitation is constant and consistent: “Come, follow me.” “Walk with me.” “Return unto me.” His invitation is to all— whoever we are, wherever we are. For “he inviteth ... all to come unto him and partake of his goodness; and he denieth none that come unto him.” Jesus Christ denieth none! No one need walk alone!
